[REDACTED]

PART B: Truths

Q3: How could First Peoples' history and culture be better taught at school?

I think being told the truth about what happened to our people would be extremely beneficial for young mob.

Q4: How could Aboriginal kids be better supported at school?

I think understanding that a lot of people especially mob need to be outside to learn better. Nature is apart of us and we are apart of it. Let the kids go up the bush and teach them there.

Q5: How else could we improve the Victorian education system for First Peoples?

I think in a lot of school they downplay what really happened when white fellas come here and if that it was talked ~~and~~ taught how it really was first nature's people would feel more seen and therefore intergenerational trauma would be seen better as well.
